

Funeral of Senator Knox to be Held Friday In Washington, With Burial on Saturday at His Late Summer Residence at Valley Forge

Men in All Walks Join in Expressions of Regret at His Passing.

DEATH IS VERY SUDDEN

Stroke of Paralysis Comes as He Enters Dining Room at Capital Home and He Dies Within 15 Minutes, Not Having Regained Consciousness.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—Official Washington mourned today the death of Philander C. Knox, senator from Pennsylvania, who died last night suddenly from a stroke of paralysis. From all quarters, executive, legislative, judicial, and diplomatic, came expressions of regret at the passing of a notable figure in domestic and world affairs.

Funeral arrangements provide for services here and at the late senator's home at Valley Forge, Pa. Services will be held at 11 o'clock tomorrow at St. John's Episcopal church, with President Harding, cabinet members, senators and representatives, members of the diplomatic corps and others present in the hall, professional and social life in attendance.

Members of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, on which Senator Knox had a place, will be honorary pallbearers. The active bearers will be Major Charles Wilson, Major J. R. Clark, Jr., William Watson Smith of Pittsburgh, Walter E. Clark, formerly governor of Alaska, and W. P. Martin, the senator's secretary.

After tomorrow's services the body will be taken to Valley Forge to rest Friday night at the senator's country home. Services will be held at Valley Forge Memorial chapel Saturday at 2:30 o'clock. The body will be interred in the chapel where President Harding spoke last summer at a week-end visit to the Knox home.

As a mark of respect capital flags were at half-mast today to remain for 30 days after the official mourning period.

GAVE UP OFFICE

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 13.—When Philander C. Knox left Pittsburgh in 1901 to become attorney general for the first time, it was said here that he had given up a law practice that paid him $225,000 a year, to become a government official at $8,000. He was undoubtedly the line one of the country's highest paid attorneys.

In 1902 he was elected to the senate. His service was marked by rumors of a break between Carnegie and Frick. Efforts to compromise proved futile and the stage was set for litigation over the number of millions demanded by Frick as the price of its holdings in the Carnegie company.

His service as counsel was sought by both parties. It was reported that Knox had told him to name his own fee. Knox refused both offers, on the grounds that he had for years been a friend of each of the capitalists and refused to become involved in their quarrel. The threatened litigation finally came to an abrupt ending with a settlement out of court, generally considered a victory for Frick.

GOVERNOR SPROUL TO ATTEND SENATOR'S FUNERAL

HARRISBURG, Oct. 13.—Governor Spruill and the chief officers of the state government will attend the funeral services of Senator P. C. Knox, according to announcement at the office of the governor today.

Governor Spruill today reiterated his sense of the loss to the commonwealth in the death of the senator and said that funeral recognition would be paid to his service.

Under the governor's will, the election for the full term, will take place in 1922, when Senator Knox had expected to be a candidate. The governor refused to discuss any matters connected with the succession in any way today.

Fire Destroys Old Town

FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 13.—Fire virtually wiped out the old town of Ellenville in Young county this morning. Only four or five buildings remain in the business section of the town, according to a telephone message.

BIG DIRIGIBLE IS WRECKED, CREW OF THREE ARE SAVED

By Associated Press.

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Oct. 13.—A dirigible from Langley field was wrecked on Hampton Roads at 10:30 o'clock today.

Three men were aboard the airship when it left the flying station. Spectators reported that two men jumped as the airship descended almost to the earth. Another was seen aboard as the dirigible caught the sea and dashed it along the surface of the water.

Marine men at Old Point later reported that the four men on the craft were taken off by the captain and crew of a tug. The tug still partly filled with gas was taken in tow by a tug.

Senator Knox Fayette County; Father, Mother Both of Connellsville

Senator Philander Chase Knox, who died suddenly Wednesday evening at his home in Washington, was a native of Fayette county. He was born at Brownsville on May 6, 1855, and was named after a noted Episcopal bishop, Philander Chase. Both his father and mother were one-time residents of Connellsville. The senator was a son of David Smith Knox, a newspaperman, public school teacher and later business man. His mother was Rebecca Page, second wife of David Smith Knox and daughter of Jonathan and Rebecca Page of Connellsville. He was the 11th child in the family of his father, two of whose children were born to the first marriage. He was a descendant of Major General Henry Knox of Revolutionary War fame.

The Knox family had associations with Connellsville other than having been the birthplace of the father and mother of the most distinguished member, Senator Philander C. Knox.

Alfred C. Knox, a brother of the senator, and now a well-known banker of Pittsburgh, was for several years cashier of the Youghiogebny bank, a predecessor of the Young Trust company. Samuel Knox, a cousin, married Mary Herbert, a sister of Mrs. John A. Armstrong and the late Mrs. John A. Armstrong. Mr. W. H. Knox, who was the father of Roger Knox of Pittsburgh, now United States commissioner for the district of Western Pennsylvania, and of Herbert Knox, both the father and mother of these young men died while they and a sister, Mary, were quite young, the latter living but one month after the death of her mother. The surviving brothers grew to young manhood in Connellsville, making their home with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Armstrong.

Senator Knox spent his boyhood days at Brownsville, securing his private school education there. He was graduated from Mount Union college, Alliance, O., in 1872, admitted to the bar in 1875, appointed by President Grant as assistant United States attorney for the western district of Pennsylvania but resigned in 1877 and formed a law partnership with James H. Road, under the name of Knox & Road, in which he is said to have enjoyed a very lucrative practice. Many stories are told to illustrate his skill as a lawyer which he afterward placed at the service of the United States in his capacity as attorney general.

Philander C. Knox was attorney general in the cabinet of President McKinley and Roosevelt, secretary of state in the cabinet of President Taft and in the interim between those two offices and afterward was United States senator.

Senator Knox was an active figure in the fight in the Senate in 1919 and 1920 against the ratification of the peace treaty of Versailles. Even when the treaty was being drawn up he delivered speeches in the Senate and out of it in which he demanded that the League of Nations covenant should be separated from the other part of the treaty. He introduced a resolution in that effect which was adopted by the Senate and also presented a resolution against the appointment of American representatives on the negotiations' commission. He also drafted one of the various resolutions submitted to the Senate for adopting the treaty with reservations.

Subsequently Senator Knox was the author of a resolution adopted by the Senate in May, 1920, declaring peace with Germany. This also was voted by President Wilson.

Senator Knox first came into national prominence when in 1901 President McKinley appointed him as attorney general. He resigned that office under President Roosevelt until 1904 when he resigned to accept an appointment as United States senator from Pennsylvania to succeed the late Senator Quay.

As attorney general he established a record for prosecutions of trusts and combinations and in actions against railroads to prevent rebates and discrimination in rates.

Notable among his achievements while in this office was his act against the Northern Securities company, a corporation organized for the purpose of combining the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railroads. He brought the government action to dissolve the merger and after a long legal fight, beginning in 1902, he won the case in the United States circuit court.

Mr. Knox also won a notable fight against the combination of seven big corporations against which he brought action in that year (1902), charging them with being in conspiracy in restraint of trade. He obtained judgments against the defendants which were made permanent on appeal to the United States supreme court and the combination was ordered to be dissolved.

Soon after Mr. Knox instituted proceedings against 14 railroad corporations charging them with being in combination in restraint of trade and finally won all the suits.

Mr. Knox was appointed United States senator in 1904. As secretary of state in President Taft's cabinet he inaugurated an active policy of adding the extension of American trade with foreign countries, which was characterized as "open door policy," a designation intended in distinction but of which Secretary Knox afterward declared he was proud. He proposed that an arbitral court be established at the Hague and that the Manchurian railway be nationalized and approved the plan for the Central American court of justice for maintaining peace in Central America.

His home was in Pittsburgh and he had a farm at Valley Forge, Pa. He had been a trustee of Mount Union college and a member of numerous clubs in Pittsburgh and New York. In 1879 he married Lillie, daughter of Andrew D. Smith of Pittsburgh, by whom he had one daughter, Eleanor, wife of J. R. Thiele, and three sons, Reed Knox, Hugh S. Knox and Philander C. Knox, Jr.

SENATOR CROW LOOKED UPON AS KNOX' SUCCESSOR

Governor Spruill Will Fill
Vacancy Until Election
In 1922.

EXECUTIVE IS SILENT

It is conceded in all quarters that the logical successor to Senator Knox, who will be appointed by Governor Spruill to serve until a successor is chosen at the November election, 1922, should be William E. Crow of Uniontown, the Republican leader of the state Senate and chairman of the Republican state committee.

The appointment would not only be favored by Senator Penrose and all the party leaders in the state, but by the rank and file of the party in the state and by Senator Crow's host of admirers in both parties in his native county.

Senator Knox's successor will be appointed under the same law by which he was appointed by Governor Pennypacker in 1904 to succeed Senator M. S. Quay.

Governor Spruill has declined to discuss anything connected with the appointment but he is known to sustain very intimate relations with and is an enthusiastic admirer of Senator Crow.

Unemployment
Conference Ends
Work, Adjourns

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The national conference on unemployment after creating a standing committee with authority to reconvene the full conference at any time, concluded its deliberations and adjourned.

Divergent views as to needed economic readjustment for relief of unemployment were presented to the conference today by its manufacturers' committee.

Majority members, through James A. Campbell of Youngstown, O., committee chairman, recommended several sweeping measures, including repeal of the Adamson eight-hour railroad law.

Minority members, through Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, strongly emphasized that "there must be adopted no policy of wage reduction."

Officials explained that the reports were not to be taken as recommendations of the conference but as expression of opinions of different groups.

"Jim" Coughenour To Retire Nov. 1 On B. & O. Pension

CONNELTOWN, Oct. 13.—James R. Coughenour, veteran ballplayer and Ohio engineer, who for a number of years has been employed on the Connelett and Oakland branch, will be retired November 1 on a pension. Mr. Coughenour has been in the service for several years and it is probable he has made his last trip over the C. & O.

The veteran engineer's home formerly was in Connellsville.

DEMAND FOR TICKETS

High School Entertainment Course
Will Be Popular.

There is an unusually good demand for tickets for the high school entertainment course this season. The pastboards have been distributed among the students who are selling them and a number of these have been returned for additional ones.

By purchasing season tickets there is a considerable saving and a seat for every number is assured. The tickets may be exchanged for reserved seats at 3 o'clock next Wednesday morning at C. Roy Hatzel's drug store.

County Farm Agent Off for State to Get Information

County Farm Agent C. L. Ransburg left Wednesday morning for the college to attend the special agricultural conference to be held there Thursday in connection with the inauguration of President John M. Thomas which is to take place on Friday. While at the college he will also attend a special agricultural extension workers' meeting with other county agents and college specialists.

The inaugural conference is expected to mark the beginning of a new era for Pennsylvania Agriculture. Rural life, schools, churches, farmers' organizations, crop production and distribution methods, research and experiment station work will be discussed by men who have spent years of study on these difficult subjects.

Such men as the following will speak at the conference: Secretary of Agriculture Fred Ransburg, Dean A. R. Mann, Cornell Agricultural college; L. B. Dennis, state bureau of vocational education; A. McSparran, master of the state college; Dr. R. V. Thatcher, director of the New York experiment station; C. G. Jordan, Volant; Dr. L. A. Klein, dean of the U. of P. school of veterinary medicine; and Dean Waite of Penn State.

Verdict in Damage Suit.
The verdict in the damage suit of Leon Stewart and Reuben Kagle against William Younklin of Uniontown, returned in Uniontown this morning, awarded the former $1,900 and the latter $127.75. The suits were for $25,000 for injuries sustained when Younklin's truck hit the girls.

WOMEN JURORS TO BE CALLED FOR NEXT WEEK

Trial of Common Pleas Cases
Will Be Opened in Uniontown.

CRIMINAL LIST, NEAR END

The first women jurors in Fayette county will be called for service next week.

District Attorney William A. Miller announced this afternoon that the criminal list will be closed this week and the full term of civil court will be ushered in next week.

During the week—Tuesday—one of the most important cases on the civil list will be called, that of claims for reward for the arrest of Albert Smith of Edinboro in connection with the numerous incendiary fires of last fall and winter. Harry Steinhart of Fayette City and J. C. Holder are the claimants to the reward, $5,000 offered by the county and $1,000 by the school board of Perry township.

There are 80 jurors on the list for the week and 12 of them are women. The women are: Mary Keck Martletts, Connellsville; Sarah McCalland, Vanderhill; Emma Braden, Dawson; Edna D. Scott, Dunbar; Margaret Sichel, Perry township; Alice B. Beyer, Gray; Chick, Mrs. C. C. Hemminger, Anna Boskovic and Lynn A. Wilson, Uniontown; Jennie Jones, Southfield; and Cora Newcomer, Redstone township. Mrs. Hemminger was the first drawn for jury service in the county.

Hoyt and Yankee
Bats Hope Today
Of Miller Huggins

By Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13.—White Sox, who are in the breach of the Yankees' last defense this afternoon. The youthful pitcher, the untried pun of the Yankee staff, must hold off the attack of the Giants in the eighth contest of the world series or nightfall will find the Giants the champions of the world.

"I will give the Giants all I have," said Hoyt as he came from the clubhouse, "and all I ask is that the Yankees give me a few runs."

"I probably will use Nott," said McGraw, "but I may switch to Salter or Shen."

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—The New York Yankees are in the hole today and must win the game with the Giants this afternoon or lose the world series. The final score yesterday was 2-1, in favor of the McGrawites.

As frequently has occurred during the series, the American leaguers again drew first blood, getting a tally in the seventh. Two were out when Hawkins got to first on Ward's double to left, was advanced to third on Ward's sacrifice and scored on McNulty's single.

The Giants tied things up in the fourth when Youg got a single off Ward's glove after Frisk had been thrown out. Kelly struck out and Young stole second. Menard drove a line single to center which scored Youg.

The Giants fished out the winning run in the seventh. Two were out when Hawkins got to first on Ward's error. Snyder was up and when he doubled to left, Hawkins scored. Donkiss closed the inning by striking out and then he stopped the Yankees until the close of the game. Menard pitched a brilliant ball which was an outstanding feature in spite of his defeat.

U. S. MANAGERS MEET

Candy and Toys Parades for Christmas Holidays Discussed.

A meeting of the Union Supply managers, officers and salesmen was held yesterday at the Continental Hotel, at which time plans for buying a line of candy and toys for the Christmas holidays were discussed. At noon the meeting adjourned to the First Presbyterian church, Uniontown, where luncheon was served. Eighty-eight officials were present.

Attorney B. O. Taber delivered an address on "The Foreigner in Our Midst."

AUTO SIDESWIPED

Car Wrecked on West Side Hill
Driver Hurt.

Frank Lyons was injured about the head last night when the automobile in which he was riding was sideswiped by another machine on the West Side hill. Lyons' car was wrecked. He was rendered unconscious and carried into a nearby house.

The automobile which struck his car did not stop. Another man, riding with Lyons, was slightly injured.

Secretary Underwood Rame, W. M. C. A., returned last evening from Washington, D. C., accompanied by his wife and family, who were visiting at Capital Heights, Md., their former home.

Armed Case Today.
The Roscoe Arbuckle trial was listed for today at San Francisco.

MEETING CALLED TO BOOST COUNTY MEMORIAL HALL

L. F. Armstrong of Uniontown, chairman of the committee in charge of the campaign for approval of the project to erect a memorial building in Uniontown for the soldiers of all wars, to be voted on at the November election, has issued a call to the "Daughters of the American Revolution,
Red Cross, auxiliaries of American Legion, Ladies of the G. A. R., hosts of Foreign Wars, Spanish War, American Legion and the Grand Army of the Republic" to attend a meeting in the principal building, Uniontown, Saturday, October 23, at 2 o'clock.

"We want as many to attend as possible, or at least send delegates or some one to represent you," the call says. "We want every patriotic man and woman to work and vote and see that their friends vote for this memorial."

AMERICAN LEGION WILL SEE NO MEMBER GOES HUNGRY While Out of Employment

Commander McCormick Authorized to Care for Them
When in Need.

ANNUAL AMATEUR SHOW

To Be Again Managed by John R.
Brown; Ralph A. Marietta Chairman of Committee in Charge; Good Progress in Armistice Day Plans.

Milton J. Bishop Post No. 361, The American Legion, will see that no member of the organization resident in this vicinity, or who may become a visitor here, shall lack creature comforts because of non-employment. At a meeting of the post held last evening a fund was set aside and Commander Charles A. McCormick was authorized to provide money for ex-servicemen who can produce evidence showing their membership in the legion. Already a number have been cared for, chiefly those who have passed through Connellsville in secret of work.

At the same meeting steps were taken to arrange for the annual amateur theatrical performance by members of the post. John R. Brown, who successfully managed "Legionettes" given last winter, was again selected for the office. Ralph A. Marietta was chosen chairman of the show committee. Other details will be arranged at a later meeting.

Reports from General Chairman Ralph A. Marietta and from several of the Armistice Day committees were received showing that progress is being made in the arrangements for this notable event. The parade committee has already secured the consent of 20 business establishments of the city to provide floats for the industrial section of the parade. A number are yet to be solicited. Plans for the parade are assuming excellent shape, indicating that this will be one of the largest ever held in Connellsville.

Favorable comment was made upon the fact that one merchant of the city has taken the initiative in featuring the forthcoming celebration in his newspaper advertisements. It was thought similar cooperation will be gladly given by other advertisers when the matter is brought to their attention.

The Boy Scouts will be asked to participate in the parade, also the Armies of the city and Smith Connellsville. The music committee gave assurance that at least eight bands will be on hand to take part in the parade and that favorable reply will be received from others not yet heard from. A special committee will meet with the Connellsville Military band next Monday evening. Arrangements to provide refreshments and give the place of honor in the parade to members of the G. A. R. and wounded veterans of the World War.

Interest of ex-servicemen in the building sections in the celebration is to be aroused by means of visits of General Chairman Marietta. Today he went to Perryopolis and Star Junction, where no legion boys have been organized to attend meetings of veterans and extend them an invitation to come to Connellsville on Armistice Day. Captain George A. Mills of Brownsville, leader of the colored veterans of the county, has been asked to urge them to be present for the day and take part in all the exercises including the parade.

All the members of the Legion in this county as last year's meeting contributed to the fund for the fund and expressed their willingness to assist in any way they can to assure the success of the annual festival of the youngsters.

The Armistice Day committee feels very much encouraged as well as, very grateful for the support and assistance being given by the business men and citizens generally.

BOY SCOUT MEETINGS

Three Called for Friday Evening for Important Business.

Troop No. 3, Boy Scouts, will hold its regular meeting tomorrow evening at the Y. M. C. A. at 7:30 and all the boys are requested to turn out as Scoutmaster J. M. Southard has a busy program for them.

Troop No. 4 will hold a special meeting tomorrow night at the church, at 7:30 o'clock, in charge of Scoutmaster C. A. Crowley and all the scouts are urged to be out as plans will be discussed for the hike to Adelphi the next day.

Troop No. 5, in charge of Scoutmaster Ralph Stiger, will meet tomorrow night at the library. Every Scout in the troop is asked to attend, in uniform. They will be assigned to the different events in the field meet and drilled. The meeting is called for 8 o'clock.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

GIVE LARGE RECEPTION

One of the most brilliant social functions of the season was a large and beautifully appointed reception given last evening in the parochial school hall by the Young Men's Council, Knights of Columbus, in honor of Miss Anna Lowmyer, grand regent of the Catholic Daughters of America, and W. J. Dooley, district deputy of the K. of C. In appreciation of their excellent work and untiring efforts toward arranging for the annual state convention of the Knights of Columbus held recently in Conneltsville. At the close of the grand march, J. J. Brady, past grand knight, in behalf of the order, presented Miss Lowmyer with a beautiful wrist watch and a large bouquet of chrysanthemums and Mr. Dooley with a gold fountain pen. Both responded with appropriate talks. Previous to the grand march an impromptu musical program was rendered. Songs by Mrs. W. Y. Corrado, Miss Blanche Dowling and P. W. Neugebaur were well rendered. Dancing was indulged in until 12 o'clock, and a very enjoyable time was had. A number of tables were arranged on the second floor and guests who cared not to dance spent the evening at cards. The hall was handsomely decorated for the occasion, the K. of C. colors, purple and white, predominating. A large portrait of Christopher Columbus was effectively arranged in the center of the stage. Palm and ferns formed a pretty background. Music was rendered by Kiefer's nine-piece orchestra. The reception was a complete surprise to Miss Lowmyer and Mr. Dooley. Among the out of town guests were John Howe and Mrs. Paul Ryan, Miss Edna Fudges, Miss Mildred Horrick, of Pittsburgh; Mrs. George Wolfe, Pittsburgh; A. J. McDermott, Uniontown; Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Walsh and daughter, Wilma, Uniontown; Mr. and Mrs. James Barrett, Dunbar; John Miller, Scottdale; and Mr. and Mrs. James DeOre, Dunbar.

WOMEN OF MIDDLE LIFE

A Dangerous Period Through Which Every Woman Must Pass

Practical Suggestions Given by the Women Whose Letters Follow

Afton, Tenn.—"I want other suffering women to know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. During the Change of Life I was in bed for eight months and had two good doctors treating me but they did me no good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which I did, and in a short time I felt better. I had all kinds of bad spells, but they all left me. Now when I feel weak and nervous I take the good. If you think it will induce some one to try the Vegetable Compound you may publish this letter.—Mrs. A. KELLER, Afton, Tenn."

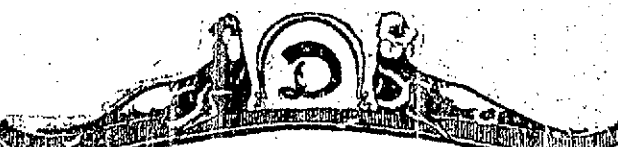

Mrs. Mary Lister of Adrian, Mich., adds her testimony to the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

to carry women safely through the Change of Life. She says: "It is with pleasure that I write to you thanking you for what your wonderful medicine has done for me. I was passing through the Change of Life and had a displacement and weakness so that I could not stand on my feet and other annoying symptoms. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the first bottle helped me, so I got more. It cured me and I am now doing my housework. Your medicine is certainly a woman's friend and you may use this testimonial as you choose."—Mrs. MARY LISTER, 608 Frank Street, Adrian, Mich.

It is said that middle age is the most trying period in a woman's life, and owing to modern methods of living not one woman in a thousand passes through this perfectly natural change without experiencing very annoying symptoms. Those mothering spells, the dreadful hot flashes that send the blood rushing to the head until it seems as though it would burst, and the faint feeling that follows, as if the heart were going to stop, those sinking or dizzy spells are all symptoms of a nervous condition, and indicate the need for a special medicine. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a root and herb medicine especially adapted to act upon the feminine system. It acts in such a manner as to build up the weakened nervous system and enables a woman to pass this trying period with the least possible annoying symptoms.

Women everywhere should remember that most of the common ailments of women are not the surgical ones—they are not caused by serious displacements or growths, although the symptoms may be the same, and that is why so many apparently serious ailments readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it acts as a natural restorative and often prevents serious troubles.

Do You Look Forward To a Good Night's Rest?

Do you regularly anticipate a refreshing sleep? Or do you dread going to bed, only to stare, sleepless, at the walls? The difference between sleeping and staring is simply a matter of nerve.

When your nervous system is in a sound condition, you are certain to sleep well. But when your nerves are worn out and beyond your control, your rest is broken and your awakening leaves you languid and irritable.

Doctors know that much of the nerve disorders result from tea and coffee drinking. The drugs in these drinks over-stimulate, often causing the serious ills which result from disturbing the regular bodily functions. It is for your health's sake that many doctors now say you should quit tea and coffee. Drink Postum, the delicious meal-time beverage instead! In flavor it is much like coffee.

Postum is fundamentally a nerve strengthener, because it lets you get sound, restful sleep. Postum is a skillfully-made cereal beverage, and the secret of its popularity is its protection to health and its delicious flavor.

Ask your grocer for Postum. Drink this hot, refreshing beverage in place of tea or coffee for 10 days and see what a wonderful difference it will make in the way you feel.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in this) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

Tornadoes Easy Victors Over Suter; Team Shows Unusual Independent Form

Four Touchdowns Scored in Second Half of Contest.

OUTFIT IS SPEEDY ONE

The Connelville Tornadoes met and conquered the much-trusted Suter team in a game at Fayette Field yesterday afternoon and before the final whistle blew the visitors were ready to quit and acknowledge Connelville the victor. The score was 32-0.

At times there were periods of real football, both in offense and defense. Then again both teams were very ragged in their playing. There was entirely too much fumbling, not confined to either side, but in spite of all this it was an interesting contest from the sidelines.

The Tornadoes showed ability to gain every play when the ball was sent off tackle and also showed considerable form in the aerial game. Coach "Casey" Jones was commended frequently for the pep he has injected into his men and for the game they played. The team never failed to hold Suter.

It was the first home game for the Tornadoes and the crowd was, not just what had been expected. Many persons do not realize the calibre of the outfit. Before many games, however, fans will know the independent organization is one to help keep this city to the fore in sports.

The Suter team knew football. This was demonstrated in the opening quarter. Towards the end, however, the morale of the Suter team was cracked in the center of the field and from then on the Tornadoes played with a confidence.

On a number of occasions the march of the Tornadoes was interrupted by Suter backs, when forward passes were intercepted. The complaint was returned several times, however. In the second quarter the march of the Tornadoes for a score could not be halted and LaPorte went across the field to kick the goal.

On the next kickoff, Suter advanced 10 yards. Then Smith intercepted a forward pass. On a lateral pass Pittman gained 18 yards and LaPorte added three more. The ball was then only three yards from the goal line. During a time-out for Suter, while a substitution was being made, George Francis, once a star in the game, walked on the field to speak to Pittman. The Tornadoes offered a penalty and could not gain the distance. A sure touchdown had been prevented. Pittman attempted a drop kick which failed. The half ended 14-0 Tornadoes.

Suter kicked off to open the second half. Widmer caught and Suter recovered but the team fumbled on the next pass. Widmer recovered. Then started a march for a consistent touchdown. With Butano a consistent runner, LaPorte a consistent kicker, Suter a consistent punter, the Tornadoes offered another penalty. Making another first down, the team attempted a forward pass across the goal line, being easily completed. LaPorte to Widmer. LaPorte kicked the goal.

The locals scored quickly again when the Suter team was held on the five yard line and a bad pass was fumbled. Harrison recovering, LaPorte kicked goal.

Coach Jones had been making substitutions, which, however, did not weaken the team. The third quarter ended 20-0.

The next event was C. White's 15-yard run for a touchdown after Suter had fumbled and Moore recovered. LaPorte kicked the goal.

Suter punted after receiving the next kickoff and after two first downs had been made, Darr carried the pigskin 15 yards for another score. Butano failed at the goal. That ended the scoring and by that time every substitute on the bench was in the game.

The lineup:
TORNADOES—Dunn, McKown, Cantrell, Hosok, Schuch, Spensack, Fortner, Wisner, J. White, Stewart, Kishel, R. Oberdick, Substitutions—Suter—Dunn for Schuch; E. Oberdick for Stewart; Olin for R. Oberdick; B. Oberdick for Fortner; E. Ulrich for A. Oberdick; Connelville—Smith for Dunn; Widmer for Penfeller; Butano for Pittman; Rattermore for Harrison; Spigar for Tolan; C. White for LaPorte; Darr for LaPorte.

Touchdowns—LaPorte 1; Widmer 1; Harrison 1; White 1; Darr 1; Goals from touchdowns—LaPorte 2.

Referee—Kerwick.
Umpire—Mestvitz.
Head linesman—Schaffer.

A man on horseback who patrolled the field made it difficult to hop over the fence.

The high school team went on the field after the game to get in a short practice. The team is determined to give Washington a hard run.

The Lettingers band played during the game.

GOOD DEMAND FOR SEATS FOR BOXING SHOW

Unusual Interest Manifest in Program for Next Monday Night.

CARVER - GOLDIE FEATURE

The tickets for the boxing show, which takes place on Monday night at the West Penn Hotel, have been placed on sale at the West Penn Hotel, Judge by the advance demand for seat reservations, one of the best turnouts of fight fans will be on hand to witness the four sets of bouts arranged.

The feature attraction is the 10-round bout between Eddie Carver, colored lightweight champion, and Young Goldie, the Pittsburgh boxer. These boys undoubtedly will give the patrons of the Fayette Athletic club a rare battle treat. Unusual interest is being shown in the return bout between Johnny Pollock of Dawson and Frankie Welby, the heavy-hitting youth of Latrobe. Pollock is in strict training and expects to hand Welby the same dose he received last month. The opener, at six pounds, between Buck Krouse and Julie Seidinger of Dutch Bottom is attracting more than the usual local interest.

Jackie Prommie, flyweight champion of this section of the state, proves he is in top form by defeating Ray Schuch at Pittsburg Tuesday night. Schuch is a Pacific coast product and is considered a very clever mitt tapper. Prommie is to meet Red Brown of Rochester in the semi-final bout, who disputes Prommie's claim to the titular honors of this section.

A CONTINUED GAIN IN OUTPUT OF BEEHIVE COKE AND SOFT COAL

Former Increases 12,000 Tons, Latter
348,000 Tons During Week Ending October 1.

Production of beehive coke in the United States continued to increase during the week ended October 1, says the report of the United States Geological Survey compiled by E. G. Tryon. The total output is estimated at 82,000 net tons, an increase over the week preceding of 12,000 tons, and the largest production since the last week in March. Average product per day, however, was less than one-fourth that in the corresponding week in 1920. The improvement occurred principally in Pennsylvania and Ohio. According to the compiler, production in the Connelville region was 62,000 tons against 48,700 tons the week before.

Cumulative production during 1921 now stands at 4,116,000 net tons, against 16,070,000 tons in 1920.

Production by states, compared with the corresponding week of 1920, was as follows:

State	1921	1920
Pennsylvania and Ohio	246,000	226,000
West Virginia	2,400	26,000
Alabama	2,000	27,000
Georgia	5,000	25,000
Virginia and Kentucky	6,000	25,000
Colorado	1,000	2,000
New Mexico	2,000	5,000
Washington and Idaho	3,000	5,000
U. S. Total	282,000	375,000

For four weeks in succession the production of soft coal has climbed steadily upward. The total output during the week of October 1, including light coal, is estimated at 876,000 net tons. Compared with the week preceding this was an increase of 348,000 tons, or 4 per cent. The week's production was the largest since last January.

The output of bituminous coal for the month of September was 25,167,000 net tons. The average per working day was 1,355,000, an increase of eight per cent over the August average. In spite of the increase the September output was still far below normal for September. In the eight years preceding the lowest figure for September occurred in 1914; yet even this month showed 39,019,000 tons, or 2,914,000 tons more than did September, 1921.

"Scrags," said Mr. Gibney, "your ship, we've fought, but we'll let that go. We wipe the slate clean and start in all over again on the Maggie II, and I'm free to state, without fear of contradiction, that in the last embargo you showed up like four aces and a king with the entire company standing in." "Scrags," you're a hero, and what you propose proves that you're considerable of a damned old-batterer, you look. We'll go freebootin' down on the Gold Coast. There's war, and war, breakin' loose down there, and we'll be in our horseshoe with the strongest side and pry loose a fortune somewhere. I'm for a life of wild adventure, and now that we've got the ship and the funds and the crew, let's go to it. There's a deal of fine liquor in the wardrobe, and I suggest that we nominate Phineas Scrags, late minister of the battleship Maggie, now second in command of the Maggie II, to brew a kettle of hot grog to celebrate our victory. Mac—Scrags—your ass. He's proud of you both, Stakes!"

They shook and as Captain Gibney's eyes wandered aloft, First Mate Scrags and Chief Engineer McGuffey looked up also. From the mainmast of the Maggie II, floated a long blue burgee, with white lettering on it, and as it whipped out into the breeze the old familiar name stood out against the noontide sun.

"Good old dishcloth!" murmured Mr. Gibney. "She never comes down."

"The Maggie forever!" shrieked Scrags.

"Hurray!" bellowed McGuffey. "An' now, Scrags, if you've got all the enthusiasm out of your old head, let's get a hundred an' fifty dollars an' interest to date. An' don't let me hear the ship's outlaws, or I'll feed you to the fishes."

Captain Scrags looked crestfallen, but produced the money.

CHAPTER X.

"Well, Scrags, old hunk, this is pleasant, ain't it?" said Mr. Gibney, and sat on the deck of the Maggie II. "Right-o," replied Captain Scrags cheerily. "Though when I was a young feller and first went to sea, it wasn't considered no pleasant to spit on a big clean deck. You might cut that out, Gib. It's vulgar."

"Passin' over the fact, Scrags, that you didn't got no call to jerk me up on an' attack me, particular since I'm the master and manager of this here schooner, I'm free to confess, Scrags, that your observation does you credit. I just did that to see if you was going to take as big an interest in the new Maggie as you did in the old Maggie, and the fact that you object to me expectoratin' on the deck proves to me that you're leavin' behind you all them boy's sailor tendencies of the green-pea trade. It leads me to believe that you'll rise to high rank and distinction in the Colombian navy. Your hon, Scrags, expectoratin' on the decks is barred, and the Maggie II goes under navy discipline, from now on. Am I right?"

"Right as a right whale," said Captain Scrags. "And now that you've given that old mate of mine the course, and we've temporarily plugged up the hole in this here Mexican gumbot, and everything points to a safe and profitable voyage from now on, suppose you delegate me as a committee of one to brew a scuttle of grog, after which the syndicate holds a meeting and lays out a course for its future conduct. There's a few questions of rank and privileges that ought to be settled once and for all, so there can't be no hoochery."

"The point is well taken and it is so ordered," said Mr. Gibney, who had once held office in Harbor 15, Master and Pilots Association of America, and knew a "fugment or two" of parliamentary law. "Rustle up the grog, call McGuffey up out of the engine room, and we'll hold the meetin'."

Twenty minutes later Scrags came on deck, to announce the successful concoction of a kettle of whiskey punch; whereupon the three adventurers went below and sat down at the cabin table for a conference.

"I move that Gib be appointed president of the syndicate," said Captain Scrags.

"Second the motion," rumbled McGuffey.

"The motion's carried," said Mr. Gibney, and banged the table with his horny fist. "The meetin' will please come to order." "The chair hereby appoints Phineas Scrags secretary of the syndicate, to keep a record of this and all future meetin's of the board. I will now entertain propositions of any and all nature, and I invite the members of the board to knock the stopper out of their jaw tackle and go to it."

"I move," said Captain Scrags, "that B. McGuffey, 'Bully Boy,' and he is hereby appointed chief engineer of the Maggie II, and I suggest to second the wage-bidder of the Marine Engineers' Association of the Pacific Coast, and that he be voted a one-fourth interest in the vessel and all subsequent profits."

"Second the motion," said Mr. Gibney, and not to hamper the business of the meetin', we'll just consider that motion carried unanimously."

"B. McGuffey, Esquire, rose, bowed his thanks, and sat down again, apparently very much confused. It was evident that he had something to say, but was having difficulty finding his thoughts in parliamentary language."

"Gentlemen and Brothers of the Syndicate," He began.

and a five per cent bonus in case we turn a big trick."

Captain Scrags went at once on deck. Ten minutes later he returned to report that the mate and the four seamen elected to stick by the ship.

"Bully boys," said the Commodore "Bully boys. I like that mate. He's a smart man and handles a gun well."

While I should hesitate to take advantage of my prerogative as Commodore to interfere with the normal work of the deck department, I trust that on this special occasion our esteemed, navigatin' officer, Captain Scrags, will not consider it beneath his dignity or an attack on his office if I suggest to him that he brew an other kettle of grog for the crew."

"Second the motion," replied McGuffey.

"Carried," said Scrags, and proceeded to heat some water.

SOLVING RAILROAD PROBLEM WILL END FUEL SUPPLY WORRY

No Need of Federal Control When Railroads Function Properly.

WILL REGULATE PRICES

In the current issue of World's Work, Floyd W. Parsons writes very pointedly upon the needs of the coal industry in the matter of a better regulated supply and distribution, holding that the solution of the railroad problem is the chief essential to the production of an ample supply. He contends that, much the better plan for Congress will be to abandon the proposed radical measures for federal control of private industry and, confine its attention to ways and means of improving the transportation situation so that coal may be produced and moved when people need it and the price kept within proper limits by the unchanging law of demand and supply.

By way of emphasizing the fact that coal is the most important economic question before the country at this time, Mr. Parsons says:

"One federal building in Wall street, New York city, now holds gold coin of bullion to the value of $1,500,000. This is one-fifth of all the gold that has been used at money in the world since the beginning of civilization. But great as is this enormous treasure which lies in one of Uncle Sam's assay offices, it has only one-half the value of the total quantity of coal purchased by fuel consumers in the United States in a single year."

"If we were to develop and utilize, at once, every possible water power resource in America, the total energy thus made available would replace only a small part of the horsepower now derived each year from coal. The petroleum resources of the United States, so far as ground oil is concerned, have an estimated life of but 20 or 30 years. Therefore, looking ahead a dozen years or more, our hope for a fuel to supplement coal appears to be in the development of a shale-oil industry. The world's oil-bearing shale resources are so great they are almost beyond computation."

"Next to oil, as a competitor of coal, is natural and artificial gas. Like ground oil, the country's supply of natural gas is limited to a comparatively short period of time. The waste of coal and oil, has been appalling. Coal enters into the cost of practically all of our necessities and most of our luxuries. When the price of coal goes up, the price of everything else we use goes up; when coal comes down, all other things follow. In 1917, just before America entered the war, the labor cost per ton of anthracite coal was $1.51. Then the government took hold of the coal industry and wages were advanced by the Federal Fuel Administration and later by the award of a United States Coal Commission, until now the labor cost per ton of hard coal is $4.07."

"The bituminous industry shows practically a like development in raising costs. At the commencement of the war, a ton of bituminous coal could be purchased in most of our mining fields for $1.50. From this low level, the price of bituminous coal rose to $7 or $8 a ton at the mines in most districts. Since these peak prices were recorded, there has come a substantial decline in soft coal prices and the outlook for a return of prices to a normal level is particularly good. If the government will keep hands off, if consumers will exercise economy in the use of coal, and, most important, if the railway will provide adequate transportation at a lower rate than now prevails."

"When the nation has solved its railroad problem, it need not worry at all about an adequate supply of fuel. Let those who want to regulate the coal industry devote their attention to getting our carriers back into shape, and the nation's fuel business will need no federal control. With plenty of cars and sufficient motive power, there will be more than enough coal for everyone, and the prices will be low."

FEWER IDLE CARS

At the Theatres

THE SOISSON.

"DANGEROUS CURVE AHEAD," the feature attraction at this theatre today, tomorrow and Saturday, presents Helene Chadwick, called "the most photographed girl in America," in the leading role.

This original screen story by one of America's best known novelists and short story writers lets the observer share the joys and the troubles of a typical young American married couple, as well as see how they meet them. The story begins with the marriage, then details the daily differences that result in the usual family squabbles. Later on, when the children come, and the family fortunes improve, the kind of troubles change.

Social ambition begins to cloud the days of the young wife; and the conflict becomes a question of whether she should sacrifice the care of her children to her desire to shine in society. But this, too, is solved in a dramatic episode new to the screen. The first five years are fully lived through; the children have had innumerable hardships, scraped knees, injured themselves, or each other, and the husband and wife find that their hardest trials have been met and overcome.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"DANGER AHEAD," a screen version of Sara Ware-Bassett's popular novel, "The Harbor Road," with Mary Philbin in the stellar role is being shown today.

Just what do the simple village folk along the New England coast think of the city dwellers who come each summer to breathe the pure air and enjoy a vacation from their strenuous life in the city?

The answer to this question is adequately given in "Danger Ahead." Amazed and scandalized by Dora Mayhew, who arrives from the city and immediately sets about winning a rich young man who is vacationing there, these simple folk react to the situation by imagining evil plots of little "Tressie," the slave of a summer boarding house, who has lived in the village all her life.

Plots and counter-plots, intrigue and queer situations, sometimes tragic and sometimes containing comedy touches, result when two young men, becoming entangled in a cross-purpose love affair with Dora and "Tressie." Friday and Saturday, "Desperate Trails" will be presented.

THE ORPHAN.

"THE GHOST IN THE GARRET," a Paramount picture, with Dorothy Gish in the leading role, is the feature attraction today.

Miss Gish, in the story, is a poor girl who goes to the home of her wealthy uncle and aunt, taking her dog and parrot with her. The dog puts a fashionable party to rout and from that moment the action is not permitted to drag for an instant. Then comes the theft of a valuable pearl necklace by a society crook who does with his body to a haunted house where his pals are in hiding. Going in pursuit of the thief to protect her sweetheart who has been arrested for the theft, she finally recovers the jewels after a series of thrilling and laughable developments.

The charming star is excellently supported in the picture, her leading man being William B. Park. The crook is in the hands of Ray Gray. Others in the cast are Dawn Clark, Mrs. David Landau, Frank Badgley, Tom Blake, Frank Wagner, William Nally and Porter Strong.

Friday and Saturday Shirley Mason will be seen in "The Lamplighter."

Ohio-pyle.

"OHIO-PYLE," Oct. 13—A horse belonging to William J. Jackson, valued at $100, met with a peculiar death Monday night when it went to truck walking for the Western Maryland railroad. At one point near town the animal and its foot caught in a switch, being released it started for the railroad bridge and was caught in the ties, and died there. The crew on a passing train noticed the animal and went to its assistance. They were unable to release it, and it was later removed to the dump heap.

Easy for Thin People to Put on Flesh and Gain Weight

It's such an easy matter nowadays for thin, weak, scrawny people to put on weight, healthy, solid flesh and become plump and graceful that one often wonders why there are still so many people who prefer to be thin and bony, ungainly and unpleasant to look upon.

Physicians have long known that whoever could discover a remedy that would cause the food that one puts into the stomach to turn into good, healthy, solid flesh instead of going to waste, would also discover how to put healthy muscular flesh onto thin, undernourished people, and this has now been accomplished.

If you are thin, under developed, nervous, weak, or lack vigor and vitality, you can secure at any good pharmacy, at moderate cost, a ten day treatment of EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES, a new combination of flesh producing, muscle building, strength creating essence that is guaranteed to put good, solid, lasting flesh on your body and to make you strong, healthy and vigorous, or money back.

Patrons who have watched the results of the Evans' Triple Phosphate treatment are astonished at its rapid action—often in a month five to ten pounds of desirable weight is gained. Connelville Drug Co. has agreed to supply readers of this paper with Evans' Triple Phosphate and to guarantee it to do just what is claimed for it, or money returned.—Advertisement.

STORE NEWS

North Pittsburg Street

What a season this is when typical Wright-Metzler merchandise can be offered you at prices such as these!

NEW FALL COATS

$28—$38—$48

WHEN our buyer returned from New York last Saturday he had this news to delight us. An unusually warm September had left the manufacturers we deal with woefully overstocked with new Fall merchandise—merchandise that they were willing to part with at almost any price, just to get it off their shelves.

Consequently he availed himself of several purchasing opportunities that he terms "phenomenal"—opportunities which we now proceed to pass on to you in all their money-saving splendor.

The first is this offering of new Fall coats divided into three different lots, priced respectively $28, $38 and $48. There are plain tailored and fur trimmed styles in every group and the materials featured are the best that this happy season can afford—Pollyanna, Panvelaine, Velour de Laine, Normandy, Plain and Silver tipped Bolivias. The linings throughout are plain or gaily figured silks. They are ready for your immediate inspection.

We'd like to stress the fact that this is no "job lot" offering. Every garment included is one that under ordinary conditions would be worthy of a place in our regular stock and of bearing a price at least 1/3 higher than they are marked today. As it is these prices are a full 50% less than this same type of garment commanded last year.

If this is the year you buy your coat—and even if you hadn't thought of purchasing one—we urge you to see these immediately. It's doubtful if the next season will bring forth such values. At any rate a new Fall coat as low as $28 is something not one of us will want to overlook.

For Halloween Parties

EVERYTHING you could think of from clever favors to patterns for your Halloween costume have been brought forth from their boxes and are displayed for your delight. Favors—black cats, ghosts, little jack o'lanterns, witches—are priced from 10c up.

Patterns for clown costumes are 35c. Crepe Paper for decorations and to serve as material for a fetching masquerade are found in striking orange and black striped patterns and in bold black and orange stripes.

The latter are Denison's papers and clever as Denison's papers always are. Price 30c per roll. Main Floor and Basement

Purity Products

"PURITY" is the new brand name of the delicious pastries that have been winning so many friends in the market.

"Purity" is no empty syllable but really expresses what you may expect to find in all the cakes and pies and cookies that are baked here.

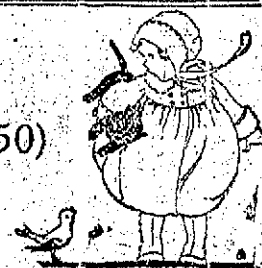

Good flour, good eggs, good sugar turn the trick aided by sanitary ovens and a high degree of baking skill.

Particularly toothsome is the new Purity Whipped Cream Cake—a cream-filled cake covered with delicious whipped cream and bits of Maraschino cherries. Price 50c.

And now that colder time is here you'll be on the lookout for good doughnuts. Ours are ready every day at 3 P. M. and are priced only 20c per dozen.

A Sale!
Infant's Bonnets
(Regularly $8.50 to $18.50)
At $6.95

ANOTHER of the fruits of this Gotham visit. The offering includes Polk bonnet and hat shaped styles for infants and little tots up to the tremendous age of three—in pink, blue and white—trimmed with fur or feathers.

Aside from the joyous thought of how tenderly cute baby will look in them, there is this matter of price: $6.95 is less than the average wholesale price today and even less than the pre-war level.

So many babies really deserve one of these new bonnets that we're sorry we could get only 75 of them. On account of the limited quantity it would be wise to purchase at once.

Men's Sweaters
1/2 Price

THE simple facts about this offering are these: These sweaters are taking up valuable room on our shelves—room we want to use for new Fall merchandise. And in order that we may have that room we have forgotten entirely the thought of profit and have marked them at 1/2 price. All are good, warm, well woven garments, good to work in, good to play in.

Included are greys, blues, reds and greens in sweater coat, jersey and V-neck styles.

Boy's and Children's Sweaters

NO MATTER where Johnny hopes to go to college when he grows up he can begin right now to wear the colors of his future Alma Mater on his sweater.

Boys' sweaters this year are priced at a much lower level than they were last and come both in plain colors—blue, brown, green, maroon. And in various combinations—blue with gold collar, red with grey collar, black with orange collar and others.

They give promise not only of being comfortable and warm but of giving many a season's service. Prices run $2.50, $4, $5 and $6.

Who likes Cut Glass?

We have a whole tableful of it participating in the Housewares Sale in the Basement that is very specially priced.

It is of the type known as "semi heavy cut" and we feel sure that a glance around your home could reveal many places—in dining room, guest room and parlor—where a piece of this ware would prove practical as well as charming.

An 8 in. three footed apple bowl, which could also serve as a receptacle for ferns or table centerpiece is priced $3.95.

A 10 in. three footed salad bowl, also well adapted for use as a centerpiece is priced $3.95.

Bon bon dishes for the sensible family distribution of candy or to use as an ashtray when daughter has an evening caller are priced only 75c.

This ware is distinctly serviceable and many find it attractive. The prices are a real harkening back to pre-war levels.

Turkish Towels
1/3 off

THIS is a lot of those heavy Turkish towels that dry so completely and so absorbing. Found in plain white patterns or combinations of pink and white and blue and white. The reduced price is due to the fact that they are slightly soiled—really no drawback when you consider that the function of a towel is to get soiled anyway. Limited quantity only and at the price a rare opportunity to provide for both present and future needs.

Next Monday is the Day

WHEN Monday dawns Mrs. Gerard will be anxious us. You remember that she's coming to give us some really expert knitting instructions—to teach us how to knit garments as stylish as they are comfortable. Enrollments for her class are being received in the Art Needlework section today.

Trimming?—by all means jet!

THIS upon no less an authority than Jenny, Cellout and other far-famed Parisian designers. "Jet" does not necessarily imply only a glittering black. There are many combination motifs in which scarlet and jade and silver sparkle against more sober backgrounds. Priced per yard $1 to $1—slight enough when you consider that trimming touches such as these are what really make a frock.

Grey Hose

THE latest word in fashion's realm is "Black—everywhere but in our hose." And there grey is by all means the favorite. Grey hose is to be found in many enticing variations—Purity, French Grey, Alex Grey, Piping Rock, gunmetal and lead—ranging from a light hue to a deeper smoke-like tint. Prices are $2.50, $3.00 and $3.75 per pair.
